CrescentCare is bringing vaccines to the people so:

- Jazz Fest will finally happen!
- The French Quarter becomes vibrant!
- We can parade again!
- Essence, Voodoo, conventions, tourism, and more can come back!
- We can all get back to business!

To do this, CrescentCare is producing a series of innovative, fun vaccination events in communities where vaccines are most needed, according to data from the City. One of our “Shot for Shots” events was featured in local, national and international news as the much needed model for how to bring vaccines to where people are—whether in life or in the city—in order to protect our neighbors and end the pandemic.

We need your help to end the pandemic.

How businesses can help

- Host a fundraiser where a percent of profits support CrescentCare's Vaccines to the People Campaign.
- Donate product or gift certificates that can be used as incentives.
- Sponsor additional vaccine events in communities where needed ($1500 each).
- Connect us to other businesses who can do any of the above.

Every business that donates will be named in our campaign and on the CrescentCare website. Supporting businesses will also be named in press and promotional materials. All donations are tax-deductible. Contact Erin Potts at 504-641-3746 or vaccinestothepeople@crescentcare.org

About CrescentCare

CrescentCare is a trusted healthcare provider in New Orleans, and has been on the frontline of our city’s response to COVID-19. We bring caregivers and the community together as partners in health and wellness for all. Visit us at crescentcare.org